The 2020 Art Competition on the topic "Solidarity unites us" aimed to encourage students to present their world in the year of the pandemic, as well as the way in which they experience the challenges that new circumstances have posed to all of us.

Through artistic expression, students depicted how the world and their immediate environment changed during the pandemic, marked the examples of solidarity and support that the pandemic encouraged, and showed who in their communities was most affected by the new circumstances. This year's competition invited students to think about the importance of solidarity, with a tendency to raise awareness among the youth that we are all equal when facing the challenges, be they global, local or personal, and that they are easier to overcome with the support and joint action of the whole community.
